We are very pleased to confirm that we work with Sam Stuart, Pro at Walmley Golf Club, to provide opportunities for young people with a range of disabilities to engage in golf.

Over the last three years, he has worked with both Round Oak School and Woodlands School as well as a range of other special schools and organisations to deliver high quality golf lessons. This has seen an improvement in social skills, communication and confidence as well as a strong interest in golf.

It is fantastic to hear that Walmley Golf Club is proactively planning to provide additional inclusive facilities that will create further amazing opportunities for young people with a disability to improve both their learning and their health and wellbeing.
